

FABIO SALINI

Paris, 3 october, 2016

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Renowned Italian Jeweler FABIO SALINI Presents His High Jewelry Creations at Paris Fashion Week in the Assouline Residence at Palais Royal from October 3rd – 5th

Fabio Salini is in essence, creativity.

With an experimental, research-driven approach to jewelry design, he creates unexpected combinations evolving the face of traditional high jewelry.

Fabio Salini draws seductive forms, and uses dramatic, yet soft volumes that result in unique jewelry with strong character, combining contemporary design with classical elegance.

Both living in Rome –the cradle of classical art– and a deep interest in contemporary art, constitute for Fabio Salini a dichotomy of stimuli that flows through his creations. Working with contrasts and experimenting with new materials, he has revolutionized the classic vision of jewelry, bringing a new level of bold expressiveness.

From October 3rd- 5th in the Assouline Residence at Palais Royal, Fabio Salini will personally lead you on an exceptional journey into the narrative of his works, through the materials he has experimented with in his unconventional but exquisite jewelry creations: from precious gems to rock-crystal, leather, silk, stingray, titanium, bronze, copper, resin, bamboo or carbon fiber.

This private viewing of Fabio Salini's one-of-a-kind creations, is an anthological, tangible and wearable exhibition of pieces that he personally has chosen to introduce how his jewels come into being through a creative process of exploration, developed over time, with a novel, evolutionary approach to traditional jewelry-making.
